

Entertainment of Monday, 21 May 2018

Source: ghbase.com

NDC has abandoned me after my accident – Mzbel laments

Mzbel and some NPP members who visited her after the accident

Mzbel has disclosed that, she's now learning her lessons after suffering a minor accident that left her in her bed for days.

The musician and NDC sympathiser feels sad about the fact that, no one from her party, came to visit her when her accident at the beach was reported.

In a Facebook post she made, she lamented about how the NDC has abandoned her after her accident but rather got a visit from someone who is an NPP.

In the long Facebook post, the musician wrote:

“For the love of my political party NDC, I offended a lot of people, jeopardized my career and was verbally abused, but that didn't deter me to keep fighting for what I believed in. It's sad that I'm temporarily stuck in bed now due to a minor accident and not even a phone call or text message from any of the people I genuinely supported, to wish me well... And the amazing fact is that Honourable Tina Mensah, mother for my constituency, the woman I strongly campaigned against rather visited me yesterday when she heard about the accident”.

She appreciated the members of the New Patriotic Party (NPP) who paid her a visit saying “I am learning my lessons and I'd also want to appreciate madam MP for the love and care, even though we were on different sides, God bless you... You are just too real ????????Teary Eyes If I had died, the story would have been different with big speeches and donations... Oh my people!”.

Mzbel
on Monday

For the love of my political party NDC, I offended a lot of people, jeopardised my career and was verbally abused, but that didn't deter me to keep fighting for what I believed in.

It's sad that I'm temporarily stuck in bed now due to a minor accident and not even a phone call or text message from any of the people I genuinely supported, to wish me well... And the amazing fact is that Honourable Tina Mensah, mother for my constituency, the woman I strongly campaigned against ... See More

3K

902

629

Mzbel

2 hours ago

For the love of my political party NDC, I offended a lot of people, jeopardised my career and was verbally abused, but that didn't deter me to keep fighting for what I believed in.

It's sad that I'm temporarily stuck in bed now due to a minor accident and not even a phone call or text message from any of the people I genuinely supported, to wish me well... And the amazing fact is that Honourable Tina Mensah, mother for my constituency, the woman I strongly campaigned against ... See More

MzBel involved in motor accident at the beach

Play

Related Articles:

- Mzbel blasts NDC for neglecting her after accident
- Mzbel regrets putting her life at risk for NDC
- Mzbel rushed to the hospital following motorcycle accident
- Mzbel 'goofs' around with 17-year-old rising artiste Miyaki
- Read all related articles

Comments:

This article has 50 comment\(s\), give your comment